

Suit is filed against Board of Appeals

Acting for the Town of Wilmington, the firm of Bornstein & Cohen, of Beacon Street, Boston has filed suit in the Middlesex Superior Court as an appeal from the decision of the Wilmington Board of Appeals, in the matter of the Candlewood Village Associates.

The suit, which concerns A. Daniel Gillis (chairman of the selectmen et als vs. Bruce MacDonald (chairman of the appeal board) et als, names twenty three town officials as being the plaintiffs, and the Board of Appeals, Bruce MacDonald, William Caperci and George Robertie as being the defendants. Also named as defendants are the Candlewood Village Associates, and Antonio Tambone of Winchester.

The complete list of plaintiffs includes the Board of Selectmen, the Town Manager, five members of the School Committee, five members of the Finance Committee, the Board of Health and four members of the Council for Aging.

By name the plaintiffs are A. Daniel Gillis, George W. Boylen Jr., James T. Banda, James R. Miceli, Aldo A. Cairra, Sterling C. Morris, John E. Nealon, James R. Ottati, Francis J. Sullivan, Richard W. Thackeray, John W. Brooks, Thomas E. Casey, Richard D. Duggan, Madelyn A. McKie, Richard W. Cogan, Charles F. Mather, James J. Durkee, Marion C. Boylen, Joseph A. Paglia, Joseph M. Bulger, Grace Bourbeau, Hazel E. Backman and Sheldon E. Maga.

The suit is being based on the Robert Cohen, as Special Town Counsel, and by Alan Altman as 21 of the General Laws, and Chapter 40A, Section 17. These are the chapters of the General Laws which incorporate portions of Chapter 744, the so-called Snob Zoning Law, and the state Zoning Laws.

The town alleges in its suit that the plans, applications and other documents submitted in the Chapter 774 proceedings were insufficient, defective and improper and they failed to comply with the law, and further that the Board of Appeals was acting beyond its authority, in granting the Candlewood Village Associates a comprehensive permit, to erect 276 apartments off Woburn Street, under the provisions of Chapter 774, Acts of 1969.

As far as is known, the Wilmington Board of Appeals has not yet been served with copies of the complaint. After that occurs there are twenty days to answer the complaint. Further action depends upon the actions of the attorneys for both sides, and the court.

The complaint was signed by Robert Cohen, as Special Town Counsel, and by Alan Altman as Town Counsel of Wilmington. As far as is known, this is the first instance in Massachusetts where a conditional approval by a Board of Appeals has been challenged in Superior Court by a Board of Selectmen and other town boards. The more usual procedure has been for an aggrieved developer to appeal conditions, imposed by the Board of Appeals, to the State Housing Committee.

Mr. Gillis also served for two years as Chairman of Region 5A, Mass. Federation of Planning Boards.

Eighth grade parents orientation class tonight

An orientation program for parents of current eighth grade students who are to enter high school will be held tonight at 7 p.m., in Wilmington High School. It will be conducted by the high school guidance department, according to Dr. Harold Homefield, administrator of pupil personnel services.

the purpose is to help parents become aware of the various opportunities and services available to them and their children. They will have an opportunity to meet Dr. George Eisenberg, the high school principal, his assistant, the dean of students, the co-ordinator of student activities, all the guidance counselors and the Consulting Psychologist, Dr. Harriet Allen. In addition, the coordinator of testing, Florence Athanasia, will explain the school wide testing program.

Because parents, and sometimes students, often do not know what a guidance counselor is, and how he helps students, the work of secondary counselor is to be explained.

The counselor works with parents, and he works with students. In working with the students he wears two hats, that of guidance counselor and that of guidance teacher.

As a "guidance teacher" he helps students with such things as course selection and course changes. He makes career information available.

Now, shifting his hat to "counselor" he listens to the student's problems. This includes home, school or just plain adolescent problems. After counseling with the student and helping him to arrive at a viable solution, the counselor follows up with the student, his parents, teachers and/or agencies.

In working with parents and teachers the counselor again deals with course selections, academic problems, family problems, course failures, etc. He then coordinates joint conferences between teacher, parent and the student and often serves on pupil study teams. Finally, in working with parents and teachers, the counselor participates where needed as a leading member of Core Evaluation teams.

The presentation by the staff will be followed by a question and answer period. All parents are invited, but particularly parents of current eighth graders.

The 64th Regiment of Foot took the Salute

Saturday Wilmington had the biggest Liberty Pole parade it ever celebrated. There were over 1000 Minutemen, and about 300 spectators at Rotary Park. It was a part of the Colonial Arts and Life Festival of Wilmington.

It was the first time that a Liberty Pole parade in Wilmington had the Concord Company of Minutemen, about 100 strong in the parade.

It was the first time that a re-constituted British Company took part in a Wilmington Liberty Pole celebration.

The Liberty Pole was an act of defiance to His Majesty George III, and it did happen in some parts of New England, but never, as far as this paper knows, did it happen in Wilmington. A Liberty Pole is erected, on which is a woolen cap, the Phrygian Cap, so-called. British soldiers arrive, and demand that the pole be chopped down, or otherwise destroyed. The Colonials refuse, there are some fiery speeches, and the British soldiers leave, to the jeers of the assembled Colonials. This is the act, and it takes place in several dozen towns around Boston, every year.

This year, for the first time in Wilmington, there were some British soldiers, from the 64th Regiment of Foot.

There were four soldiers, and a Lieutenant, commanding, together with his son.

The Lieutenant (or Leftenant) is David Tolstrup, of Malden. (His number, for those who may want more information is 332-7789). The four enlisted men are part of a group that meets on Friday nights, making cartridge cases, and other British accouterments.

Known two hundred years ago as the Black Knots, the 64th Regiment was raised in North Staffordshire, and was so known, in addition to the Black Knot name, and its number. There was also a South Staffordshire regiment, also of foot - in other words light infantry.

In Britain, and in the Colonies, the various regiments were raised in the counties, generally speaking. The Wilmington Minutemen of 1775 were a part of the Second Regiment of Foot, Middlesex County, as were the Minutemen of many surrounding towns, including Lexington. Later the Second Regiment became the Fourth Middlesex Regiment, and one of the Colonels who commanded it was Colonel Blanchard, he who was the Sargeant of the Wilmington Company on Concord Day. Another Colonel in that regiment was named Hull, a brother to the Captain of the Frigate Constitution. Isaac Hull won his battle, and went on to glory in the U.S. Navy. Colonel Hull became a general, and was the man who surrendered Detroit to the British, something of which very few persons have much knowledge.

Anyway, the 64th Regiment of Foot arrived in Boston in 1768, and was quartered at Castle William. It did not take part in Concord Day, but it did take part in the attack on Bunker Hill, and it took part in most of the major battles of the Revolutionary War.

The Reconstituted 64th Regiment has its headquarters in White Plains, N.Y. There are about 200 members, in New York and New England, with three companies in Massachusetts, reconstituting part of the 4th and 5th battalions and the Royal Artillery.

It is the 5th Battalion which has its headquarters at 44 Noble Street, in Malden, with about 20 members. Dave Tolstrup, who is the Leftenant may soon be promoted to Captain, if the company increases in membership. In the old days the British officers bought their commissions. It isn't so today, at least in the reconstituted regiments. The rank depends now on the number of men commanded.

The uniforms worn by the 64th Regiment are more expensive than the Minutemen uniforms. Leftenant Tolstrup figures that $100 goes into each uniform, at least. The lace on the sleeves of the enlisted men's uniforms costs

$8, and for an officer's coat the price is $18. This coat is one of the reasons for the Friday night meetings, in Malden. As in other parts of the regiment, the men make items of uniforms, and sell to the other companies, and buy from the other companies the parts of the uniforms that they make.

The surprise in the Wilmington parade, last Saturday, was that one of the four men was a step-brother to a Wilmington man.

As a description one might say that there were two whites, and two blacks, Saturday, but that wouldn't be strictly true, for William Hensey is part Indian. He is an adopted brother to the John Hensey of upper Andover Street, which proves that it is a small world.

Anyway, the four British soldiers, and their Leftenant, did their part in the Liberty Pole ceremonies, and were duly hooted by 1000 stalwart Minutemen, who presumably had left their plows in the field to raise the Liberty Pole.

It must be remarked that the Minutemen are, in general, jolly fellows, who will fall out of line almost anytime, to get a can of beer. They might leave the plowshares behind them, but not the beer cans.

The 10th Regiment of Foot, which was seen by many on Concord Day, via TV is a veddy veddy British outfit, and it never allows any divertissement. There are no beer cans to be seen, nor are there any smiles on the visages of those British infantry men. As presented to the American public they are strictly 100% British, and 100% business.

The 64th Regiment of Foot, which of course is an entirely different organization wasn't spotted partaking of beer, during the parade, etc., but there were oc-

Discussion of Lucaya Estates

Lucaya Estates is a real estate development northerly from Park Street in Wilmington, being the old Gowing Farm of 250 years ago, and more recently the Andersen Farm.

Recently there have been reports of gravel operations, and of loam being taken out of the area to out of town destinations. There are those who say this is an illegal operation, and there are those who say it is perfectly permissible.

Monday evening the Town Manager and the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen visited the area, on invitation of some of the inhabitants. Tuesday evening Mr. Gillis told the Planning Board of his visit.

Gillis said he had never seen a real estate development such as Lucaya Estates. One woman, he said, there for a year, still has no lawn. The same situation exists with other residents, there since last January.

Gillis told the Planning Board that "they" were digging "a hellish hole" near Gowing Brook, taking out sand, and filling with "junk". He described the area as "conservation land".

He also told the Planning Board that the Town Engineer should "put in a lot of time" checking the engineering, to make sure that the developer was "crossing his ts, and dotting his i-s".

"If he (the developer) pulls out of here we are going to have a shambles. If he comes in for new sections, I want to be here, and I want those people (of Lucaya estates) to be here".

casional moments of hilarity.

Then, after the ceremonies were over, there was the March Past. In any military organization it is the senior officer who takes the salute, in ceremonies. When it comes to military organizations, as such, it is the senior organization which takes the salute.

The 64th Regiment of Foot was on duty in the Colonies in 1768. The twenty-one companies of Minutemen who marched Saturday were from companies which were organized in the fall of 1773, or the spring of 1774.

So the 64th Regiment took the salute, as the Minutemen marched from Rotary Park. The four soldiers stood at Present Arms, with their bayonets glistening in the sun, and one after another, the 21 companies of Minutemen marched past, Wilmington first, and Billerica last, each in turn saluting the British soldiers.

That doesn't quite finish the story. The 64th Regiment then fell into the line of march, after the March Past, and marched, as did the other units, to the common, and in this there was a bit of horse play.

Any parade with twenty or more units has times when there must be a pause in the movement. It might be described as a caterpillar, advancing over the ground. Part of that caterpillar is still, while other parts are moving.

So it was last Saturday, A Minuteman company would have to halt, and perhaps mark time, because some company ahead had halted. The twenty-first company, (Billerica) was thus always stopping, and then starting again in their march.

Of course they had a reason to march, after each stop. There would again be room, up ahead.

They also had another reason. Behind them, with fixed bayonets the four British soldiers were marching, inexorable in their advance.

It was enough to keep any Billerica Minute Man glancing behind him, during that parade!

SPORTS

Wilmington Pee Wees are champs

The Wilmington Pee Wee BI hockey team won first place, and the championship, in the Western Massachusetts Invitational Tournament in Springfield on April 25.

The BI's lost their first game, 4 to 1, to a strong Agawam team, and then came back to capture first place and the championship.

The first game vs. Agawam took place Friday at 8 p.m. Perhaps it was the ride, perhaps the excitement, whatever it was, the boys just did not click in this game. It should be noted that Agawam and Amherst had started a day before the BI's and each had a 1-1 record prior to this game. Agawam had a 4-0 lead early in period three when Rick Zambarnardi fed a pass to David Kidd who skated in, faked the goalie and scored a very nice backhand goal. Agawam outshot the BI's 21-19 and their goalie made several excellent saves on tip-in attempts.

The next opponent was Amherst. It was in this game that the BI's put it all together; passing, using the points, and checking. After a scoreless first period, Mark Potenza scored on a blue line slap shot set up by excellent passing from Frank DeVita and Doug Wiberg. Amherst tied it up early in period three. Then Bob Lowney fed a pass to Keith Ford who skated in alone, faked the goalie and scored on a nice backhand. On the very next shot on goal, Eric Banda steamed out of his own zone up the left boards and at the top of the face off circle ripped off a slap shot that caught the far post. Wilmington won 3-1.

Not enough can be said about goalkeepers Rick Ballou and Wayne Veloze; they were simply superb handling 14 shots including deflections and close in scrambles.

That set the stage for a 5 p.m. rematch with Agawam. The game was scoreless at the start of period three when the BI's outshooting Agawam, 11-8. With three minutes left, Bob Lowney stole the puck in Agawam's zone with a blue line poke check. Keith Ford picked it up, skated in and fired a perfect wrist shot high over the goalie's right shoulder. Total shots in period three - Wilmington, two, Agawam three with Wilmington taking a 1-0 victory. The tournament director later stated, "this was the best game I have seen during the past year." High praise for both teams. Wilmington was now 2-1.

The boys were rolling - nothing could stop them now. They just had that invincible spirit, determination and confidence.

Game four vs Amherst took place Sunday at 9 a.m. The BI's opened the scoring on a deflection by Frank DeVita assisted by a 40 foot shot from Rick Zambarnardi. In the second period Peter Orlando scored his first of three goals assisted by Keith Ford and Bob Lowney. Amherst added one, making it 2-1 Wilmington. The BI's outshot the opposition 15-5 in the second period.

Period three opened with Peter Orlando scoring his second goal assisted by Bob Lowney and Keith Ford. Then Bob Lowney lit the lamp assisted by Keith Ford. Wilmington's last goal was a beauty that saw Bob Lowney connect with Keith Ford who fired a wing to wing pass to Peter Orlando breaking down on the right side. As the defense forced Peter wide, he kept going, circled the net, came back out front, and scored from eight feet for his hat trick. Final score, 5-1 Wilmington.

Rick Ballou and Wayne Veloze did an excellent job in the nets. Wilmington outshot Amherst 30-14. The line of Walter Surrette, Mike Stokes and Mark Laliberte did an excellent job of checking a couple of very strong players, both in this game and in game three vs. Agawam.

Defensemen Ken MacMullen and Steve Washburn performed very well, time and again stopping rushes in their end of the ice.

Wilmington was now in first place, 3-1; the stage was set for the championship game against Agawam, 2-2 at 2 p.m. The director brought in new officials, a referee and two linesmen who had worked the Junior B game the prior Friday.

Wilmington opened the scoring on a power play as Rick Zambarnardi tipped in a blistering 50 foot slap shot from Eric Banda set up by Jamie Boudreau. Period one shots 4-1 Wilmington. Agawam tied it up in the second stanza on a screen shot, and then took the lead 2-1 early in the third period. The BI's came back and once again Rick Zambarnardi tipped in one of Eric Banda's blue line bombs. The game was tied 2-2. Rick Ballou went back into the nets for a running five minute overtime. At the end of that time it was still tied.

Each team would now take five penalty shots - one on one with the goalie - one player from each team shooting simultaneously. First shot, Rick Zambarnardi scored, Agawam just did catch the post, 1-1. Second shot Frank DeVita scored, Rick Ballou saved, 2-1. Third shot, David Kidd hit the post, Rick saved, 2-1. Fourth shot, Doug Wiberg scored, Rick saved, 3-1. Fifth shot, Mark Potenza's shot was stopped, Rick saved. The BI's had won it all. Pandemonium. Everybody played superbly, particularly the goalies. Final score, 5-3.

Sunday afternoon the teams marched out on to the ice behind a color guard and a kilty drum and bagpipe group. The trophy was awarded with coaches Jim Kidd and Al Potenza, Captain Rick Zambarnardi, and alternate captains Frank DeVita and Keith Ford accepting for the team.

Much should be said for the efforts of Jim Kidd, Al Potenza and Rick Carty who instilled the spirit de corps and pulled the right string at the right time in order to have the team practice what Jim, Al and Rick have been preaching for so long. Thanks guys, great job. It was a long, but happy ride home for the Pee Wee Western Massachusetts Invitational champions. Congratulations!!!

WESTERN MASS. PEE WEE CHAMPS: Front, l. to r. Doug Wiberg, Mark Potenza, Steve Washburn, Keith Ford, Rick Zambarnardi, Frank DeVita, Peter Orlando and Rick Ballou.

WILMINGTON YOUTH HOCKEY

Squirt A (2-1-1) May 11: The Wilmington Squirt A's tied South Boston 3-3 in a season hockey game. Ed Harding scored Wilmington's first goal assisted by Kevin Smith and Jeff Brown. Kevin Smith scored the next two, the first unassisted and the second from Jeff Brown.

The A's came from behind three times to eventually squeeze out a tie as the teams took turns scoring. Goal tending was superb on both ends of the rink, each goalie viewing 18 shots and allowing in three.

Ed Laquidara played his usual strong net game as he took away two additional would be Southie goals.

May 18: The A's were defeated by Reading, 3-2 in Sunday's contest. The team never did get really started as Reading took 1-0 and a 3-1 leads forcing the A's to try and come from behind all during the game. Paul Brady tied the score for Wilmington half way into period two on a goal mouth scramble with assists going to Jim Newhouse and Jerry O'Reilly.

Ed Harding narrowed the margin with 51 seconds left, but the leading slsyrtd lrskaters kept the puck out of their zone for the remainder of the game. Ed Laquidara made some of the most unbelievable stops in his attempts to keep the score close.

Pee Wee A (2-2-0): The Pee Wee A's came up with a 4-1 win over Charlestown last Wednesday as Coach MacDonald's boys played an excellent game.

The game was scoreless until 7:59 of period two when Charlestown scored their first and only goal. A minute later Keith Ford scored after circling the net and banging a backhand off the goalie's stick that bounced over his shoulder into the net. Assists went to Rick Zambarnardi and David Kidd.

On a power play Jim Conti, deep in his end fed a cross ice pass to David Kidd at the red line, who then fired a 50 foot slap shot that beat the goalie to his left. On the third power play of the game, Rick Zambarnardi won a face off in Charlestown's end, passed to David Kidd who passed back to Rich who scored.

The final goal came after Charlestown pulled their goalie. Jeff Lux stopped a dangerous shot, made a sprawling pass to Bill Robinson who hit Gordon Smith at the blue line with a nice pass. Gordon skated over center ice and shot a 45 footer into an open net.

B team back on track 3-0

The Wilmington Recreation B-team traveled to Belmont Saturday to face a greatly improved Belmont team. The B-team dominated the game from the opening whistle.

the first score came on a throw in by Andy Pedersen; the throw went to Eric Wood, who passed to Captain Bill Gallagher, Gallagher took the ball out of the air and headed it into the net for a 1-0 lead. The rest of the first half was played aggressively, dominated by Wilmington. The score, however, remained 1-0 in favor of Wilmington.

The second half was played the same way with Wilmington controlling play. The scoring in the second half was started by Chris Briggs of Wilmington. The play started when Tim "Mad Dog" Pilcher headed the ball up to Cliff Hall who headed it up to Briggs, who wasted no time in firing the ball past the Belmont goalie. The play following the goal was in the Wilmington end. Belmont took several shots on net, but the solid

Tennis club concludes clinic

The Wilmington Tennis Club recently concluded its youth clinic for the children of the town with two weekends of instructional sessions held at the Avco courts on May 10, 17 and 18.

One hundred and thirty-one youngsters, ranging in age from seven to 16, participated in the clinic, under the direction of Fred Ryan. The sessions emphasized the fundamentals of the game of tennis, including basic ground strokes, the forehand and backhand, as well as serving and scoring.

Twenty-one club members volunteered their time in working with the youngsters during the two weekend sessions, and the interest and enthusiasm displayed by the children was sufficient reward for the members who served as instructors.

A junior ladder is being prepared for the club's junior members between the ages of 10 and 16. Any junior member who did not sign up for the ladder during the clinic sessions, should contact the following ladder coordinators: girls ladder, Judy Conant, 658-9531; boys ladder, Paul Dornigan, 658-8609.

The new junior ladders will be released in an upcoming newsletter to all club members within the next two weeks.

Members of the club who volunteered their time to assist in the instructional clinic included: Judy Conant, Jane Forest, Doty Berger, Lois Bova, Diane Ryan, Mary Ellen Taylor, Andrea Silverman, Ruth McFarland, Joanne Magliozzi, George DiFranco, Sean O'Beirne, Mark Smith, Charlie Lawrenson, Ray Berger, Carroll Gillespie, Rod Wild, Paul Greco, Dick Bova, Fred Ryan, Bob Auer and Joe Murphy.

defense of Wilmington cleared the ball before any damage was done. Minutes later Tim Pilcher put a pass on, throwing to Cliff Hall. Hall made a few moves the put the ball in the middle to Chris Briggs, who put it in for his second goal of the game, sixth of the year, and the final score 3-0.

it's true the Wilmington team was powerful, but a lot of credit has to go to the solid defense. The defense was lead in its solid performance by Andy Pedersen who also chipped in with an assist at 3:30.

the next game will be against Framingham at the North Intermediate School. This should be a defensive battle, last time these two teams met it ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

Dear Larz:

Someone far more clever than I once penned the immortal words, "Coming in second is as exciting as kissing your sister." (With apologies to my two sisters, both of whom I love dearly.) As is the case with most generalizations, there is an exception to this rule also. Consider the following:

According to all the newspaper accounts, Andover won the 10 team Merrimack Valley League meet (outdoor track) last Saturday, with Wilmington a respectable second. The margin was 75 to 64½, with third place Chelmsford well back at 38.

What some of the reports did not do though, (especially the occasionally provincial Lawrence paper, which covers Andover's athletic events) was to give the Wilmington track team due credit for the achievement which was theirs, when consideration is given to comparative Merrimack Valley male enrollment figures. As should be pointed out for the sake of perspective every so often, Wilmington has the second smallest male enrollment in the league, with only Austin Prep having fewer students. That Wilmington's high school athletic teams, all sports, consistently do as well as they do is a credit to the boys and to the entire coaching and athletic staff.

The point of this letter is not to suggest that Andover should apologize whenever it defeats a Wilmington team. As another old saying goes, "if you've got it, flaunt it." "It in this case, is numbers. Live bodies. It is axiomatic in sports that if you have a particular strength, you exploit it to the hilt. (This is why Bobby Orr is on the ice for 30 to 40 out of 60 minutes some games, far more than the average ice time normally logged by a defenseman.)

Andover, with the third largest enrollment in the conference, exploits this advantage, as well they should, and combines their healthy enrollment nicely with super adequate facilities and above average coaching personnel.

I attended the league meet last Saturday, to snap a few souvenir pictures. One could not help but be impressed and proud of the Wilmington team. There were seventeen events in the meet, and Wilmington, with 10 schools competing, captured eight first places. This is an incredible statistical improbability in itself. How Mr. Kelley (and Messers Cripps and Racioppi) can bring forth this kind of a performance, with the relatively limited number of students they have to draw from, remains something of a mystery to me.

Just for the heck of it, I was curious to see what the results of this league meet would be, if a weighting factor were loaded in to compensate for the disparity in school enrollments. After all, they use lead weights in horse racing and handicaps in golf, right? In order to do this, current school enrollment figures would be required. I just happened to have these figures, as published in the Lowell Sun on January 27, 1975. They are as follows, and represent the male enrollments in the upper three grades:

|-------------------|-------|
| Chelmsford | 887 |
| Billerica | 885 |
| Andover | 759 |
| Tewksbury | 697 |
| Methuen | 558 |
| Lawrence | 496 |
| Dracut | 494 |
| Lawrence Catholic | 470 |
| Wilmington | 448 |
| Austin Prep | 386 |
| Total | 6,080 |

Next is listed the actual point totals of Saturday's league track meet:

|------------------|-----|
| Andover | 75 |
| Wilmington | 64½ |
| Chelmsford | 38 |
| Dracut | 29 |

The final set of figures represents the outcome of the meet, after the balancing factor

DANA ROUCHE: stretches it out in the long jump, one of two events he won first in, the other being the triple jump.

TONY GRAVALLESE: takes the hand off from David Cain in the third leg of the winning mile relay effort.

for school enrollment was included. (I won't bore you with the arithmetic involved here - I'm reasonably certain the formula and computations are accurate):

|-------------|-----|
| Wilmington | 81 |
| Andover | 56 |
| Dracut | 34½ |
| Chelmsford | 20½ |
| Austin Prep | 20½ |

| Lawrence | 13½ |
| Tewksbury | 13½ |
| Methuen | 11 |
| Central Catholic | 7 |
| Billerica | 4 |

Again, the record books will carry the meet as an Andover win, and rightly so. As I was saying, coming in second, when you consider all the circumstances, can be pretty exciting after all.

W.F.S.C. ice recital

The recital, which, hopefully will be held annually, had special meaning this year as it was dedicated to the memory of Eileen Morrisette.

All the performers received medals in recognition of the fact that they have each earned all twelve badges.

The skaters, in order of their appearance were:

Kelly Glynn, Linda Serio, Margaret McGowan, Lynne Smith, Lisa Murray, Barbara Baker, Lynne Murphy, Kathy Rice, Sandy Yorks, Cristy Cooke, Kathie Connor, Robin MacDonald and Lisa Smith.

Cathy and Debbie Morrisette and Sherry Bearse did not skate in the program, but did receive medals.

On May 8, U.S.F.S.A. Figure and Dance tests were held at the Youth Ice Arena in Wilmington. Skaters from many area clubs participated.

Leanne Smith and Catherine Ryan of the Wilmington Figure Skating Club both passed the preliminary figures test.

The annual luncheon of the Wilmington Figure Skating Club was held on May 15 at Valle's in Andover. Joseph Hartka and Mrs. Pat Greenberg, former board members were presented with plaques in recognition of their years of service to the club. The out going officers, Virginia Rice, treasurer, Bette Smith, secretary and Ruth McFarland, recording secretary also received gifts. Following lunch, Joe presided at the sundae bar and Ginny poured.

Before jacking up your car always be sure that your ignition is off, the parking brakes engaged, and the transmission lever, if you have an automatic, is in park.

If you have a manual transmission in your car, lock it by shifting into first gear. You will find that this will help to break the rear wheels as well.

If you are going to be working in the front of the car, be sure to place wooden or metal chocks in front, and behind the rear wheel diagonally, to protect your wheel from slipping.

You will find the service and parts department at WILMINGTON FORD, 275 Main St., Rt. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800 to be one of the area's most modern and complete. We have one of the largest parts inventories in New England to insure minimum delay in making your car's repairs, and our mechanics and parts people are longstanding employees to further assure you of our reliability. Open: sales, 9-10 Mon-Fri; 8-6 Sat; service, 7:30-9 Mon-Fri; 7:30-5 Sat.

Helpful hint

Never let wheels slide off ramps, or overdrive the edges of ramps.

Deborah Banda: Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Banda of Marie Drive, Wilmington will graduate from Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, Wakefield on June 9.

She plans to attend Emerson College in Boston beginning in September. She will major in journalism.

Wilmington High School Wilmington, Mass. Dear Sir: On May 7, a group of your students was given a tour of the Cambridge Police Station. As the Cambridge Police Department's Safety Officer, it is my duty to organize and conduct these tours. Therefore, I was called upon to guide this group through the station's facilities.

After having met these students, I felt compelled to write to you and tell you that never in my experience as safety officer have I been more impressed with a group of young men and women. They arrived promptly at the time scheduled for the tour, and my first thought was that they were remarkably well dressed and groomed. They presented quite a handsome image to all who observed them in the station. Soon after we began the tour, it became apparent to me and the other officers who assist me that this group was exceptionally bright and interested. They asked intelligent questions and challenged my fellow officers to exert extra effort in their presentations of the various aspects of police work. Each officer coming in contact with them in each different department was so favorably impressed that they asked if there was anything more they could contribute to make the tour more successful.

What I found most commendable about this group was their extraordinary courtesy. My request that they be as quiet as possible while passing working officers was met without any objection. Each time they posed a question to an officer, it was accompanied with "Please, Sir" or "Excuse me, sir." I'm sure the officers' faces must have registered surprise, as rarely are they addressed so politely. It was obvious that all the students respected the officers and the functions they perform. In turn, the officers had the greatest respect for the boys and girls after they met them. Several officers, both patrolmen and men of rank, remarked to me after their departure that they were delighted to have encountered such an outstanding group of young people.

These students are a credit to their school, their community and their families. If all young people their age were so unusual, then the need for police officers would be greatly reduced. I hope that what we all had to say about law enforcement as a career inspires some of them to enter the field, because they would be an invaluable asset to any department. If the rest of your student body is as courteous and interesting as this particular group, then you are indeed very fortunate. I do hope that you inform those students that we enjoyed them immensely, and we would welcome them back at any time.

Sincerely,
Ptl. James K. Synnott

Antoinette Calo is homemaking award winner

Miss Antoinette Calo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Calo of 5 Arlene Avenue, Wilmington has been named the top home economics student in Wilmington High School.

As the outstanding home economics senior Miss Calo has been awarded a Sterling Silver Home Maker Award. A four piece setting of sterling flatware, it was presented by Mrs. Eileen Malay, Monday, at the senior class banquet. It was made available by the Sterling Silversmiths of America, in recognition of the fine work being done in high school home economics education.

Kevin McMillan

Kevin McMillan of Dunton Road was the person to whom the board of appeals granted almost instant justice, as reported last week in the Town Crier. He had until Thursday to move the home of the late Minot Anderson to a lot of land off Parker Street.

When Thursday came around Kevin ran into a state problem - probably the State DPW. Anyway, he could not move that house on the road - it was over 18 feet long, or something like that.

Kevin went to Rep. Fred Cain, who took care of the troubles in a hurry - except that by that time the moving gang had gone home.

Now Kevin is expecting - is hoping, to move his house next Tuesday, up Lowell Street to Parker Street, and to the new foundation.

3. Frequent opportunity for small, informal conferences with senators and congressmen of the participants own choosing.
